Dear Fellows and Guests,

Print this out and take with you to London

Wednesday, June 8: Many of those arriving early are attending "War Horse". We get to and from the play on our own. If everything goes right your tickets should be available at the front desk of the hotel.

Thursday, June 9: Barbara Rion has arranged a tour of the world famous Chelsea Physic Gardens leaving the Hotel around noon and returning around 3 p.m. Contact her at the hotel if you are interested.

Thursday, June 9: The day is open until Tea Time. We are the guests of the Bar Council of England and Wales at the Lincoln Inn at 4:30 p.m. for Tea. It is a 15-20 minute walk from the hotel. This is really more suited to practicing lawyers and Judges so we have an alternate Tea. ABCL is hosting a High Tea at the lovely Terrace Room of the Royal Horseguards Hotel at 4:00 p.m. We will have a delightful, educational and entertaining speaker. Carol Nahra has been living in London since 1995; a former Clevelander she is a travel writer, filmmaker and true Londoner. As you know, scones and marmalade will not spoil your dinner plans. We do want all the Fellows at the Lincoln Inn. Our hosts are the kind of lawyers we think we are and have come from inside and outside of London just to meet us (a copy of our invitation is included). Note: The Barristers will be coming from work so business dress would be appropriate.

Friday, June 10: The day is open until 4:30 p.m. when a bus picks us up to take us to The Old Bailey for a comparative sentencing hearing. One of our own will act as an American Defense Counsel and another as a Federal Judge while the Brits will have a real Judge - wig and all - as well as a Defense Barrister. This will be a relatively short exercise and we will be given a tour of Old Bailey. We will then return to the hotel for a cocktail reception and a buffet dinner. Because of our numbers we must be prompt to the bus. If you are not on the bus, we will assume you are either not coming or are coming from another place and will leave without you. Note: The Old Bailey is very difficult to see because of security during Court hours. This is a real treat arranged by our Honorary Fellow Chris Sallon QC (leave your cameras and cell phones at the Hotel).

Saturday, June 11: An English breakfast in the hotel is served as part of your room rate each day. The meeting will start at 8:30 a.m. at the Hotel after your breakfast. At 10:30 a.m. we hopefully will have British lawyers to discuss our similarities and differences. This part of the meeting will be open to all. The meeting will conclude by noon and the rest of the day is your own. Note: The Queen's Birthday Celebration starts early in the morning right around the corner and creates some traffic problems but some great colour.

Sunday, June 12: 9:00 a.m. Meeting – Agenda to be planned. 5:30 p.m. we meet in front of the Hotel for pick-up. We arrive at 800-year-old Gray's Inn for a champagne reception and dinner. We will be entertained by a well-known London string quartet. We will then conclude the weekend by being bused back to the Hotel to continue our European excursions. Note: Dinner will be with Gray's Inn's famous silver, crisp white tablecloths and fresh flowers, so please dress accordingly.

For those of you wanting to make dinner or theatre arrangements, the Hotel Concierge is most helpful.

Dear Gerald,

I am delighted to hear from Chris Sallon that you will be leading a delegation from the Board of American Criminal Lawyers to visit London in June.

We would be pleased if your delegation would be able to join me and some other criminal barristers for afternoon tea at Lincoln's Inn, hosted by the International Committee of the Bar Council. It would be a pleasure to meet you and your delegation and a good opportunity for our professions meet one another and exchange professional experiences in informal surroundings. I understand that a similar event was held when your organisation visited some ten years ago and was a great success, which we would hope to repeat.

The afternoon tea would be held on Thursday 9th June at 4.30pm in the Old Court Room of Lincoln's Inn, WC2A 3TL. We will be inviting members of the criminal bar including office holders of the Criminal Bar Association, the Bar Council, the International Committee and the Circuits to attend.

I look forward to hearing from you and to meeting you in the summer.

Best wishes,

Peter Lodder QC
Chairman of the Bar Council of England and Wales
